DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on June 30, 2006 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter, which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 24-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter, which the applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 24, line 2, "the member" lacks proper antecedent basis.

In claim 26, line 2, "the member" lacks proper antecedent basis.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 17-29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Furnish (U.S. Patent Number 5,788,630).

Furnish discloses various embodiments of a surgical retractor comprising a clamp having an opening with a slot having an upper and a lower surface, a latch is pivotally connected to the clamp, a spring biases the latch, a release button disengages the latch, an angularly adjustable leg is pivotally coupled to the clamp and extends cantilevered away from the clamp (see figures 9 and 10), wherein the leg has a mount, wherein the mount has a first and a second projection, an operator is connected to the leg, wherein the operator has a threaded shaft and a release button, e.g. 193 in combination with 194 and 195 of figure 8 below), and the latch engages a tooth on the arm (see figures 9 and 10).

With regard to the statement of intended use and other functional statements, they do not impose any structural limitations on the claims distinguishable over Furnish, which is capable of being used as claimed if one so desires to do so. In re Casey, 152 USPQ 235 (CCPA 1967) and In re Otto, 136 USPQ 458, 459 (CCPA 1963). Furthermore, the law of anticipation does not require that the reference "teach" what the subject patent teaches, but rather it is only necessary that the claims under attack "read on" something in the reference. Kalman v. Kimberly Clark Corp., 218 USPQ 781 (CCPA 1983). Furthermore, the manner in which a device is intended to be employed does not differentiate the claimed apparatus from prior art apparatus satisfying the claimed structural limitations. Ex parte Masham, 2 USPQ2d 1647 (1987).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 30-31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Furnish (U.S. Patent Number 5,788,630) in view of Phillips (U.S. Patent 5,692,531).

Furnish discloses the claimed invention except for the operator having a nut thereon. Phillips discloses a clamping device comprising an operator, e.g. 20, having a nut, e.g. 85 (see figure 1). Phillips teaches the use of a nut to lock the clamp in a closed position (see paragraph 009). It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made to construct the clamping device of Furnish with the operator having a nut thereon, in view of Phillips, in order to lock the clamp in a closed position.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 17-31 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. See PTO 892 for art cited of interest.
